

The night was arriving and the small dinner crowd was settling in. Some with cocktails already half empty. The waitress was refilling the pepper shakers in the lull after serving all her customers, when she sneezed 'Haiku! Haiku! #Haiku!. Not a single person said 'bless you'

